The scheduling interface is AWFUL. That needs to be changed. You should be able to filter by class day, time, etc.
2. Ann Marie 11
A schedule maker that lets you block out time.
3. Franki Holmes 18
Scheduling! There has to be a more efficient and just all around easier way to schedule classes
4. Hannah 31
Scheduling even though I know it's a huge university, I'm a transfer and it was difficult to get on LSU's track to graduation because classes went so quickly, or I couldn't get in the ones I had prerequisites for already. Could just be a transfer thing but it was difficult, and I ended up having two overly tough semesters.
5. Grant Rupert 33
More transparency and convenience in access to class scheduling counseling and advice on scheduling
6. Brady Bergeron 36
Scheduling crash issues and have requirements listed for your degree so you don't have to filter through all classes offered at LSU
7. Miguel Omar 47
Integrate your major flow chart with the scheduling interface
8. Tyrin McCoy 54
I would like to see the name of professors as I schedule.

Scheduling, Figuring out degree requirements

Well Moodle is not bad inherently, but teachers do not keep it updated, I had a professor who when it snowed last semester never changed his schedule or changed the chapters that were on exams. Because of this it was very difficult to tell what was on the exams and what we're not as he would not answer emails in a timely matter. Parking is miserable for everyone. Scheduling by itself is fine it sucks in regards to what each major needs as some majors get very clear layouts and others have very complicated lists. Stop replacing parking lots with dorms that is counter intuitive.

Scheduling/Requirements for your major. It would be awesome if in the scheduling booklet you could click on a class and it would make a tentative schedule so that you could see how classes would fit into a schedule. Also, if you could toggle your degree plan to show the classes that you were required to take, and just make the process easier, it would be a major thing.
